SAN PEDRO ROAD LETS CONTRACT

Los Angeles.

CONTRACT FOR ANOTHER SEC- WILL NEVER SURRENDER THE TION TO BE LET.

The San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt eastward from Los Angeles. Work from the Ute reservation in the eastward the grade is to be ready for the rails within 100 days. The success of the rest of the rest of the world, may turn their envious eyes away from the Ute reservation in the eastern part of the state; there is nothing there for them so long as the land of the rails within 100 days. The success of the rest of the rest of the rest of the world, may turn their envious eyes away from the Ute reservation in the eastern part of the state; there is nothing the rest of the world, may turn their envious eyes away from the Ute reservation in the east-ern part of the state; there is nothing the rest of the world, may turn their envious eyes away from the Ute reservation in the east-ern part of the state; there is nothing the rest of the world, may turn their envious eyes away from the Ute reservation in the east-ern part of the state; there is nothing the rest of the world. week, and the grade is to be ready for the rails within 100 days. The successful bidders are F. M. Monroe and George O. Monroe of Monrovia, Cal. The price is not given out. The contract was let in Los Angeles, the officials of the road in Salt Lake being advised yesterday.

Twenty contractors submitted bids, but only nine were found to be within the requirements of the specifications. It is said that the successful bid was only a little below the others.

The time for the fulfillment of the contra is Jan. 21 next. As the track-

The time for the fulfillment of the contra' is Jan. 21 next. As the track-layer ill follow along behind the grae' ill follow along behind the grae' it is expected that the road wil. e in operation not long after that date. The grading under this contract is to begin at Hobert station, just south of Los Angeles, and extend to Pomona. Before the end of this week the contractors expect to have between 100 and 150 teams at work on the grade. The contract calls for one of the best roadbeds it is possible to construct. In fact, the officials of the road say only one road in the United States will equal the San Pedro in this respect when it is completed.

The specifications call for an eighten-foot roadbed at the grade line, with seventeen inches of ballast at the base of the rails. Other details of the specification call for seventy-five-pound rails. fifty-six-pound joint bolts, 2.78-pound tie plates and 7.200 pounds of spikes, 3,168 ties and 2,446 cubic yards of ballast to the mile.

The contract will be let for another section of the road before the completion of the line to Pomona and the construction work will now proceed without interruption.

CUSTER WILL CELEBRATE.

Rousing Welcome For the Short Line's Houston Branch.

The people of Custer county, Idaho, are preparing a jubilant welcome for the Houston branch of the Oregon Short Line, which will be in operation about Nov. 1. This is the first railroad to penetrate the rich central county of Idaho, and the Blackfoot News thus eloquently urges the citizens to hold a the first train of the Salmon branch crosses the line into her territory. It will be a time for celebration.

"Custer has mountains whose tops are hoary and white with age. Custer has valleys where the deer and antelope have grazed with freedom for centuries. Custer has forest where the hoot of the owl and the bark of the coyote have never disturbed the ear of man, and Custer has streams where playful trout never saw the fivy or hook of a lone fisherman, but Custer has never seen or had a railroad."

"One is going into her territory. She should neet it, greet it and welcome it. It will be the first in all these centuries, in all these years. The mountains will look down upon it and smile. The deer and antelope will gambol and sport along the hillside at its coming. The owl and the coyote will keep silence at the sound of the whistles and the trout will hide under the mossy banks and boulders at the jarring of its trains. Some of Custer's children never say a railroad. Under these conditions Custer should come down to the line with its picnic baskets and

UINTAH RESERVE.

The people of Utan, in common with the people of the rest of the world, The Utes are unanimous in the de termination that they will not sell a foot of ground to anybody; they will not even talk about it,

It has been known for years that some of the land included in the Un-If has been known for years that some of the land included in the Untah reservation in the eastern part of Utah was among the richest farming land in the west. It is also well known that some of the land is covered with unusually fine timber that grows in value as the lumber of the west grows scarcer; but more important than all, there has been news of rich deposits of gold and silver in the mountains and streams of the reservation, so that there has been a very strong desire manifested to wrest the land away from the Indian tribe that occupies it. Strong efforts have been made through congress to get the land by purchase or treaty; to set aside a portion of it for the Indians, to be divided up in severalty among the different families in the tribe, and to open the balance to settlement. On two separate occasions acts have passed congress appointing commissions to treat with the Indians, and on both occasions the commissions have failed to secure a treaty.

Charlie Mack Explains It.

Charlie Mack Explains It. Charlie Mack Explains It.

The secret for this refusal on the part of the Indians to treat was given out by Charlie Mack, the interpreter, and a leading member of the tribe, in this city yest-rday. A representative of The Herald called upon Charlie Mack yesterday and found him in his tepee in the Indian village on West Temple street. He was asked for information on this subject, but refused to talk until he had consulted the chiefs and prominent men among those in the village. The reasons why the Indians will not enter into a treaty for the sale of all or part of their land is best given in Charlie Mack's own language.

for the sale of all or part of their land is best given in Charlie Mack's own language.

"Indians don't want to talk about this," he said; "Indians got no land to sell, and don't want to talk about it; that's all."

Being pressed for something more specific, Charlie Mack held a consultation with the leading Indian and then spoke substantially as follows:

"It is this way: When I was a boy, good many years ago, Indians owned all land in Utal; where Salt Lake is and Spanish Fork and all. White men came and they say, 'Indians must get back; they got too much land; must give white man some.' The white man take the land; he drive the Indians back and back; he talk this way and he talk that way, and he get land till Indian have only reservation left. That is enough; Indian gone far enough; he don't want to sel, his land; he don't want to talk about it. Now you put that in the paper, so it go all over the country. Want all people to know that; that is the way all Indians talk; they gone far enough; they sell nothing; they keep mountain, they keep valley, they keep river—everything. White man talk this way and that way for the land; Indians don't war to talk about it."

Utes Are Satisfied.

Utes Are Satisfied.

the trout will hide under the mossy banks and boulders at the jarring of its trains. Some of Custer's children never saw a railroad. Under these conditions Custer should celebrate and make merry. Custer should come down to the line with its picnic baskets and wines, stroke the fare and ears of the great iron horse; shake hands with the rider and bid the whole 'caboodle' welcome."

Railroad Notes.

A rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip has been made for the International Livestock exposition at Chicago, Nov. 30 to Dec.

Among the wild rumors recently circulated in Wall street was one to the effect that the Southern Pacific would sell to the Gould interests all of the Southern Pacific would sell to the Gould interests all of the dian own all that land, clear to top of mountains; he own the buckskins too, and he hunt him to make moccasin and clothes for his people. The white man come and he talk this way and that way, and he get all the land; he say he buy all the land. That's why Indians hunt buckskins there; that is right; indians own land and buckskins because white man don't pay. He owe Indians lot of money; I don't know how much—millions dollars. So Indians say land and buckskins belong to him and he hunt there. We don't want to talk about that.

"Same way when I was in Washington," Charife Mack continued: "white man talk this way and that way and he want Indian's land. That is enough. Indian don't want to sell his land; don't want to talk about it; that's all."
